Ready To Go Sub Plans Preview!

Sub plans are usually the worst... but they don't have to be! This packet was made as a ready-to-go source to help you prepare your sub plans... FAST. This preview will first give you an extensive first look at what is included as well as the layout, with collages, real life pictures, testimonials, AND full sample pages. I wanted to create an extensive preview so you can be well informed on your purchase and feel GREAT about it! When you purchase these plans, you will be well OVER-prepared for your sub day. I am confident that these plans will make your sub planning much easier... and that you, your substitute, and the students will LOVE them!

Easy Peasy Teacher Prep!

All you need to put your sub plans together is included, including directions, organization tips, the "Copies for Students" page so you know exactly what pages need to be copied, and binder covers and spines for your master copy binder!

Note to Teacher

Congratulations! Your sub planning is practically done! All you need to do is edit the editable Forms in the PowerPoint, and then print, copy, and go!

To prepare for your upcoming absences, start printing From the "Copies For Students" page. Then, fill out your editable Forms in the "Copies For Students" page. Then, fill out your editable Forms in the PowerPoint with some basic information about your school schedule and classroom.

There is also room on every lesson plan for you to hand write your name to the sub, in case you want to make any comments about how each lesson taught. However, this is totally optional, because the sub plans are ready to go! (Note: If you're using the "Just Add a Task" game, you'll need to add the task you'd like the students to do. The game can be played with any educational task, though, so don't stress if you don't have time to do this! All of the lessons are print-and-go)

A Few Organization Tips

Since all of the content is completed for you, all there's left to do is get it organized. Here are some suggestions to get your sub plans organized:

- Keeping it all together: Print out a master copy of all the pages and everything as well as for your sub, to make additional copies of. Then, keep them in a binder. This will make it easy for you to keep track of anything, if needed. The binders that are the best quality are the Avery binders that are the best quality are the heavy duty ones. I've tried so many other brands (Staples, Office Depot, etc.) and the binder doesn't stay lined up how it's like. But it is great when it does. I've tried so many other brands (Staples, Office Depot, etc.) and the binder doesn't stay lined up how it's like. But it is definitely personal preference and why any binder will work.
- Use sheet protectors. To keep your master copy binder in great condition and to make it easier to put together, put all of the pages in sheet protectors. This way the pages won't need to be hole punched and they won't tear or get spills on them. I like using these sheet protectors.
- Where to keep all the copies. To keep the copies for your sub

Testimonials

I could tell you how much I think these will help you... but I don't need to. Thousands of teachers have already made their lives easier with Ready To Go Sub Plans. Here is what a few of them had to say about their experience.

"These sub plans have been the BEST discovery that I have made! Thank you for making these wonderful all inclusive plans that are so easy to use, especially when you are sick and the last thing you want to worry about is writing sub plans!"

"These are fantastic! I purchased, copied, and stored these plans in a sub tub! I told my neighbor where the tub was and all she did was put the tub on my desk and the day ran SO SMOOTHLY! No need to go into the classroom with the flu! Thank you!"

"I have purchased several sets of emergency sub plans, and they just never really fit my needs. These, however, are just what I've been looking for! Easy prep, easy for the sub to follow! I recommend this to anyone needing emergency plans."

"I cannot tell you how much I appreciate this resource! Each [set] comes completely laid out, and walks a substitute through every step of the way! I will keep this forevvvvver!!!!!"

Testimonials

I could tell you how much I think these will help you... but I don't need to. Thousands of teachers have already made their lives easier with Ready To Go Sub Plans. Here is what a few of them had to say about their experience.

"WHY DID I DOUBT THESE??? I was worried about the price, but honestly... at 2 in the morning, when I'm panicking about my sick child and running to school... this is what I should have had. Definitely worth it, even when I do have plans ready. Nice layout, very friendly to teachers and subs."

"Amazing! I heard back from my sub today and she said my kids LOVED the activities today and that they were so engaged! AMAZING quality and unbelievably thorough. I'll never worry about making sub plans again!

"Thank you! As a buyer, you have provided me with the gift of time. You have created quality learning activities for the kids to do while I am gone."

"Do not hesitate to buy! The lessons and already created directions are perfect. I don't have to worry about the sub not being sure what to do."

ELA Lesson
Contractions

You will need:

- Copy of Contractions worksheets for each student ("Word Mash Up", "Contraction Detective", "Contraction Sentences" and "Contraction Matching)

Instructions:

- Tell the student's the following sentence "I'm excited to see you here today! Then ask the students "What do I mean when I say 'I'm'?" Discuss what you mean as a class. Explain that "I'm" is a contraction for the two words "I am". Model how to write it on the board using an apostrophe.

  Discuss each of the words below and how they can be made into a contraction. Model on the board as you discuss.
  - I not becomes won't
  - Can not becomes can't
  - You are becomes you're
  - She is becomes she's
  - I am becomes I'm
  - Should not becomes shouldn't
  - He will becomes he'll
- Hand out the contractions worksheets to each student. Have students work on them independently. Walk around and assist students with their work as needed.
