The image shows three overlapping worksheets from a social studies unit. The top worksheet, titled 'My Map of the World', features a world map and instructions for labeling continents, oceans, and countries. The middle worksheet, titled 'Respect', discusses the importance of respecting differences and includes a section for writing about ways to pay for things. The bottom worksheet, titled 'Jobs at Your School', lists various school jobs and asks students to describe how each person helps the school community. The worksheets are designed with a clean, educational layout and include various text boxes and lines for student input.
